

QUOTE

Henri says, “I was using every day, every single day when I was at school, at home, when I was pissed off when I was happy, it was always a celebration to just use. I was high most of the time. I didn’t really see the toll on my family.”

What type of toll could Henri’s drug use have on his family?

What did you learn from Henri’s comments?
