

QUOTES AND QUESTIONS FROM DR. MARVIN KRANK

What is addiction?

Addiction is a compulsive preoccupation with a drug, and we know that it is more likely to happen if you start early.

Why are youth more at risk of developing an addiction?

We also know that if you use drugs to deal with your problem, forget your problems, or make you more relaxed, that is risky behaviour.

Why do some people use drugs to “deal with their problems”?

Do you agree/disagree that using drugs to deal with problems or relax is risky? Why?
