

TREATMENT

The disease is the same for everyone, but the recovery can look different for different people depending on the substance they have used and their circumstances of use.

- Marshall Smith

Why is individualized treatment (different treatment for different people) important? Why or why not?

Do you believe group treatment would be better than individual treatment? Why or why not?
